With Instructor

Anne Eglash MD, IBCLC, FABM

Wednesday, August 2nd, 2023

8:15am – 2:15pm EST

This course will be conducted via webinar

Registration: <https://lacted.org/expump20230802>

Participants Will Be Able to Meet the Following Learning Outcomes:

1. Identify basic features of pumps and review of general guidelines on the use of any pump.
2. Discuss underlying reasons for low milk production in those who exclusively pump, and strategies to help improve production.
3. Explain why exclusive pumping can increase the risk of over production and how over production can lead to complications of lactation.
4. Identify reasons for breast and nipple pain that are unique to those who exclusively pump.

Continuing Education Credits

This course has been allocated 4.5 (L) CERPs recognized by IBLCE. Long Term Provider #117-04.

The AAFP has reviewed Exclusive Pumping, and deemed it acceptable for 4.5 Prescribed AAFP credits. Term of approval is from 04/21/2023 to 04/20/2024. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

AAFP Prescribed credit is accepted by the American Medical Association as equivalent to AMA PRA Category 1 credit(s)™ toward the AMA Physician's Recognition Award. When applying for the AMA PRA, Prescribed credit earned must be reported as Prescribed, not as Category 1.

According to the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), the continuing education hours approved by the AAFP and AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ meet the requirement of formally approved continuing education hours and may be used as such for ANCC Certification renewal. <https://www.nursingworld.org/certification/faqs/>

Cancellation Policy: Full refund up to 2 weeks before course. 50% refund for less than 2 weeks before course.

This course is beneficial for individuals who provide counseling and care management of lactating dyads.
